

About Lowana

Lowana is an initiative of local parents who wanted to establish a place where the overall character development of their daughters is nurtured in an environment of friendship and trust. Lowana is managed by the Association for Educational Projects Limited AEPL, a non-profit company focused on promoting educational activities, character development and Christian ideals. The pastoral care of Lowana is entrusted to Opus Dei, a personal prelature of the Catholic Church, which helps people find holiness in everyday life.
