About Lowana

Lowana Study Centre is a project of the Association for Educational Projects Limited (AEPL), a non-profit company focused on promoting educational activities, character development and Christian ideals. Lowana is a non-profit, volunteer based study centre committed to form girls and women of character, service and friendship.

The Study Centre provides programs and activities all year round for primary school, high school, university students through to young professionals and mothers. Activities are run by volunteers and include study programs, private tuition, leadership camps and workshops, holiday and social activities, and opportunities for local and international volunteer community service projects.
